TOM SULLIVAN DIES SATURDAY AT AGE OF 85

Hundreds of Friends Pay
Last Respects to Loved Citizen

Funeral services for Tom Sullivan, aged 85 years, and for 54 years a resident of Niles, were held from Corpus Christi church here Tuesday morning, interment being held in the Catholic cemetery in Hayward. Surviving are three nephews of San Francisco—P. B. Sullivan, Michael Joseph Sullivan and Michael O'Connor; and three nieces—Mrs. Mary Regan of Niles, Sister Mary Aloysius of Rio Vista; and Mrs. Della McDonnell of County Cork, Ireland, who came to Niles nine months ago to keep house for her uncle following the death of his wife.

Mr. Sullivan had been ill since last November and in rapidly failing condition for several weeks. His last public appearance was at a meeting of the Niles Chamber of Commerce when he donated a parcel of land to the county in order that first street might be opened through to the Alvarado Road and in recognition of which generosity together with other evidences of his public spirit, he was unanimously voted a lifetime honorary membership in the organization.

He had been a member of the Chamber of Commerce since its organization and for years was district roadmaster, winning commendation for the quality of roads he built before the day of concrete highways. During his life he owned extensive orchards in this vicinity.

He was one of twelve brothers, being the last surviving. He was married 52 years ago, his wife passing away about nine months ago. They had no children.

The funeral was held from the home with mass said later at the Niles Catholic church by Father John Leal, of Mission San Jose, an old family friend.

Throngs of friends and the many floral testimonies sent evidenced in part the love and esteem Mr. Sullivan's fellow townsmen felt for one of their most valued citizens.

MAN'S HEAD CUT WHEN HE FAINTS FROM CUT FINGER

Severe bruises and a deep gash in his forehead resulted from a bump Dan Martin's head got when he fainted at the sight of his own bleeding finger injured when he tried to remove a cap from his automobile at Livermore Sunday. Martin was enroute to Tracy when he met with the accident. After repairs at the Judson hospital he decided to return to his home in Oakland and leave the fishing trip for another day.

SPECTACULAR BLAZE RAZES VICTORY BLDG.

Fire of Unknown Origin
Threatens Schuckle
Cannery

A spectacular fire of unknown origin destroyed the building formerly occupied by the Victory Manufacturing Company and a small residence adjoining Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, telephone connection in a large part of the township and between Niles and San Jose being destroyed for several hours and traffic being held up on the highway and through the Canyon road. Damage estimated at from $10,000 to $15,000 occurred, both buildings being completely demolished, also a telephone pole in front of the factory. Both the Niles and the Decoto fire departments arrived upon the scene a few moments after the alarm was turned in by George Richards but when they reached the building the entire 200-foot structure seemed to be fuel for a continuous blaze, intense heat making it impossible to examine the building with view to determining origin of the fire.

In the language of the street urchin, it was a "swell fire," the long skeleton framework of the building retaining its position until after the walls had been reduced to roaring flames, then falling in a spectacular descent of a moment.

Only a few feet of ground separated the burning building from the Schuckle cannery but due to the wind's blowing from the west no damage was done to cannery property at all.

All machinery had been removed from the Victory building following the failure of the company last fall. The structure was the property of the Victory Manufacturing Company and was erected in Niles about 20 years ago by the Ames Pump Company which operated for eight years, and shut down. Two years later the Victory Manufacturing Company was organized and manufactured pumps, pipe fittings, valves, etc., until its failure last fall.

New Million Dollar Mutual Home Open for Inspection On Saturday

With all departments now in full operation, the new plant, warehouse and administration building of the Mutual Stores, on East Fourteenth street from Fifty-seventh to Fifty-eighth avenues, Oakland, is ready for public inspection and will be open to visitors Saturday, May 26, and all of the following week.

Visiting hours Saturday will be 12 noon to 9 p.m.; Sunday, May 27, all day; and the remaining days from 9 to 11 a.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

The new Mutual building represents an investment of more than $1,000,000. It occupies a five and a half acre tract of land, fronting an entire block on busy East Fourteenth street.

The two story brick and concrete structure is topped by an artistic tower 190 feet in height, which is especially striking at night, when it is illuminated by a battery of sixty-eight colored lights.

The entire lower floor of the building facing East Fourteenth street is devoted to the bakery. A huge electric traveling oven almost half a block in length is the principal sight here, although the entire equipment of the bakery is the most modern. The dough is mixed, kneaded, conveyed to the pans and the pans conveyed to the oven, all by machinery. The great oven will turn out close to 100,000 loaves of bread a day when it operates at full capacity.

The bakery also includes a large section devoted to pastries and cakes. Here, too, all of the ovens are electric and only the latest type of equipment is used.

A two story wing on Fifty-seventh avenue houses the creamery. This unit of the plant includes the milk and cream pasteurizing and bottling department, a butter plant which will churn thousands of pounds of butter daily, and the plant where Mutual ice cream is made.

All empty milk and cream bottles are washed, sterilized and cooled by a "Yundt washer," the only machine of its kind on the Pacific coast. This delivers the clean bottles to the filling machine where they are filled and sealed without being touched by human hands.

In conjunction with the creamery a complete laboratory has been installed where a chemist will be on duty every day to test the various products. His tests will supplement those of the State Dairy Bureau and

HUNDREDS HEAR ORCHESTRA IN FIRST CONCERT

Remarkable Progress Noted
In Development of School Musicians

At least 300 residents of Washington Township have become thoroughly convinced of the value of the music program being promoted by Director of Instrumental Music John C. Kimber following the performance given at the highschool last Friday evening when the above number of parents and friends of the 100 participants of the orchestra listened to a program declared to be little short of marvelous, considering the age of the players, the short time of their preparation and the inadequate rehearsals they have had due to transportation and other difficulties.

Harry Salz, perhaps the outstanding musician of the township, stated that he considered the program "nothing short of remarkable." Supervisor J. L. Bunker also expressed his great gratification at the progress demonstrated and F. V. Jones received a thunderous applause when he asked the audience whether they wished to instruct him to go before the music committee and state that they were in favor of going on with the move to establish music in the township schools.

The orchestra's interpretation of "The Lost Chord" was reported to be especially excellent as was their expression of America at the close of the program, the audience joining in, in a manner that demonstrated the fact that the children had "put across" their message of music.

The community singing accompanied by the orchestra was also an enjoyable part of the program as was the solo work of Miss Jewel Anderson.

Committee Formed to Make Plans for Annual Dinner-Dance

First steps of putting Niles on the air map of the United States were taken at Tuesday's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce when at the suggestion of Dr. Chas. H. Law, plans were discussed for promoting a program to establish a landing field here and a committee was appointed to investigate available flat roofs in the town upon which could be painted the word "Niles" for the benefit of flyers who would seek bearings in order to take the canyon route to Sacramento and other points.

Other matters of importance discussed at one of the liveliest meetings for many weeks was that of the annual banquet, it being decided to have a dinner-dance in place of a barbecue and a committee on arrangements appointed as follows: Lester Duffey, chairman; J. Crawford, J. E. Townsend, Ray Wilson, Joe Gomes.

It was announced that Arnold Abbott and John Habenicht, local Boy Scouts, would be sent to the Oakland Camp this year, a total of $251 to date having been subscribed toward the Boy Scout Fund being solicited by the Chamber of Commerce.

President Harvey Braun announced that Secretary R. K. Wilson would probably go to the Long Beach exposition by air, plans being under way to this effect by the Alameda organization.

E. D. Bristow was appointed to write a letter of condolence to be reaved relatives of the late Tom Sullivan who was referred to by President Braun as "one of the oldest, one of the best and one of the most faithful members of the organization." Flowers were sent from the Chamber of Commerce to the funeral which occurred Tuesday morning.

Roadmaster Joe Gomes announced that he would begin work immediately.

A WORTHY WORK.
SUPERVISOR RICHMOND, like his fellow members of the board, hears a great many complaints, and even when praise comes his way he is a little wary, thinking there is a "catch" in it somewhere. A supervisor's life is, indeed, not all roses.

All of which is anent our desire to compliment the gentleman for the beginning of a very good work in this district—a work that, if finished, will bring luster to the name of Richmond, and happiness to the motorist of California, of every state—yes, and pleasure to travelers from every land and clime.

Take a ride through the noted Niles Canyon and make a mental notation of the marked improvement of the highway over what it was months ago—if you had made the journey previously. The widening of the narrow portions of the road is making travel both safe and pleasurable, with the possible attainment of reasonable speed. Additional extensions are being put on several of the bridges and a general improvement of these structures is under way.

The world was not made in a minute, nor can Richmond make over this wondrous, fascinating scenic piece of roadway in a week, a month, even in a year. But he is making a beginning, a very commendable beginning, and should be thanked and praised for the work under way.

To get sufficient appropriation to rush the project through, in a manner that some would like to have the work done, is not so easily accomplished as one unacquainted with such matters might think. Oakland, naturally, pretty well controls things politically in this county. That is understandable. Large sums of money are difficult to wheedle out of the board unless direct proof can be established that the East-bay metropolis will largely benefit by the expenditure.

Nevertheless, Richmond, we feel sure, is going to win his fight for the best kind of a thoroughfare through Niles Canyon, this city's greatest and most potential asset. Its consummation is an undertaking that any man might well make the single purpose of his life. To make this gorgeous, enchanting spot more easily accessible to the thousands of vacationists of this state and other states will be an accomplishment, when complete, that will forever make the name of Richmond loved and revered by the motorist of America, and at home, canonized by the citizens of South Alameda county.

FOR THIS, IT IS WORTH ALL THE EFFORT.

THE TOWNSHIP REGISTER'S theater and dinner party last week was a noteworthy event from the standpoint of the members of the paper's mechanical and reportorial staff. It afforded an opportunity for all those who are connected with the paper in the different communities of Washington township, and those who are regularly employed on this paper to meet, and discuss problems peculiar to their work, but amid surroundings pertaining generally to the purely gladsome side of life.

To the writer it was a memorable affair, a pleasurable event, approachable by few social contacts of his life. It was especially gratifying because of the sincere joy that every member of the party seemed to experience.

There are many people whose social sphere is limited, either by necessity or by inclination, to the few people in their little world of business. Those on the outside, accustomed to entertaining lavishly and continuously, may pity such folk, but their sympathy is wasted, and the objects of this commiseration, rather than being subjects of condolence are to be envied in their happiness.

Newspaper loyalty is a thing to salute—it demands respect from anyone with the ability to comprehend big, fine things. The paper is everything. It is a living, animate thing, and true members of the Fourth Estate never consider a newspaper on which they work as the property of some one individual, but a breathing, pulsating, vigorous being, whose success and reputation is its duty to extend, protect and watch over with infinite care.

The people working on the Register have this spirit saturated thoroughly through their systems.

OAKLAND MEN ATTEMPT UNIQUE WAY OF JAIL DELIVERY HERE EARLY SUNDAY

One of the boldest methods of jail delivery heard of in these parts for many a day was attempted early Sunday morning about 1 o'clock when friends of William Marshall of 346 Henry street, Oakland, helped themselves to a cable from the ferris wheel of a nearby carnival, hitched one end to the jail door and the other to a Chrysler roadster and yanked off the lock to the jail entrance.

The jail delivery was not a success for the prisoner who

Deputy Sheriff L. A. VanPat-ten and Constable Al Vervais of Pleasanton having been summoned . . . the three gave chase and rounded up Johnny Rego of 1117 Wood street, Oakland, and Tony Rogers of 315 Henry street, Oakland, who together with Marshall were taken to the county jail, the two former to be charged with attempt at jail delivery.

According to reports the Chrysler roadster carried about eight had been arrested Saturday night for disturbing the peace in Centerville and brought to Niles by William Nesmith, watchman of that town, was locked in a cell inside the jail and the local nightwatchman, Eddie Secada, arrived upon the scene in time to prevent completion of the delivery.

men who interviewed representatives of the carnival stationed across from the justice court, about 1 o'clock Sunday morning, asking for a cable to tow a car out of a ditch. Not obtaining same they later returned and secured the cable from the ferris wheel with which they pulled off the jail lock.

NEW FORD SEDAN ON DISPLAY HERE SOON

The new Ford Fordor Sedan will be shown in San Francisco for the first time Saturday, May 26, in Hale Brothers Department Store window, Fifth and Market streets, San Francisco, according to a statement just given out by F. H. Hull, branch manager for the Ford Motor company. It was also announced that this same car would be exhibited in the Jackson Furniture company's store, 13th and Clay streets, Oakland, during the week of June 2, to June 8.

Probably more interest has been centered around the appearance of this new sedan which rounds out and completes the new Ford passenger car line than any other automobile for some time past, as thousands over the country have already placed orders for the Fordor without ever having seen the actual car itself.

In fact, according to the Ford Motor Company here, so many favored the sedan type when the new car was first announced the forepart of the year, that it was decided to make this car the really de-luxe model of the new line.

That this has been accomplished will be admitted by everyone when they see this automobile with its streamline body and beautiful exterior color combinations. Many refinements have been built into the interior of this body which seldom are found in cars in the lower priced field—such as rich upholstery, harmonizing to the fullest degree with the exterior color arrangement, arm rests, dome lights, and many others, all of which give both the exterior and interior of that of a regular little custom built car, one that will command attention with its fleetness, speed and style.

The displays in Hale Brothers and Jackson furniture store's windows have been arranged so that they will set off to full advantage this latest creation of the Ford Motor Company and according to plans released by the Ford officials in San Francisco, this will be the only showing of the car in the Bay district until the local dealers receive the new type for their own show room displays which should not be in the far distant future.

In discussing the first appearance of the Fordor, F. H. Hull, Manager of the company had the following to say:

"Thousands have been waiting for the Fordor Sedan, many of whom placed their orders some time ago without ever having seen the car itself but having complete confidence in the Ford Motor Co., to build a sedan that would have performance and beauty seldom, if ever, found in cars selling even above the price of this car.

"These people, particularly, will be enthused with the car of their selection when they see how closely it resembles the de-luxe type which is more often confined to high-priced automobiles.

In order to give everyone an opportunity to see the car in a preview setting prior to its appearance on our dealers' rooms we have arranged the displays in cooperation with Hale Brothers department store and the Jackson furniture company. We invite everyone to view the car in either place and tune in as well, on KPO Saturday evening, May 26, between 9 and 10 p.m. for the Ford Motor Company's program in commemoration of the Fordor's introduction to San Francisco."

Use Cylol and avoid frequent valve-grinding. This oil with "endurance beyond belief" reduces carbon trouble.

Stability The new Cylol will stand the hardest kind of usage. It is refined to meet the severest conditions of heat and pressure developed by the modern high compression engines, assuring you an unbroken oil film where heat, pressure and friction are greatest.

No Acids The new Cylol refining process eliminates the use of acids, though most refiners use them. While acids clear the "crude oil" they chemically change its structure and composition, thus seriously cutting its lubricating value.

The new refining process for Cylol is different in every respect. It selects from the "crude" those elements of greatest lubricating value and stability in performance, rejecting at the same time elements which readily break down under engine heat and cause excessive carbon deposits.

So Cylol gives a protective oil film on cylinder walls and moving parts, not vapor at the breather pipe.

Less Carbon As to carbon, Cylol like all other oils deposits some carbon. But it deposits less carbon than any other oil. The most exhaustive tests have proven that statement.

And even more important, the carbon that is deposited by Cylol is soft and easily removable. It is not hard or sticky and cannot scratch a cylinder.

Prove it Yourself For these reasons you will find that Cylol gives you the finest results you have ever known—more perfect lubrication, "endurance beyond belief" and the elimination of carbon troubles.

So fill your crank case with Cylol. You can identify it by the new transparent green-gold color. Sold wherever the Associated Gasoline and Cylol Motor Oil signs are shown.

ETHEL BARRYMORE TO PLAY AT CURRAN

"THE CONSTANT WIFE" WILL BE PRESENTED ON MAY 28.

Popular Actress Comes to Bay City
In One of the Best Roles of Her Career. Matinees Given
Wednesday and Saturday.

The appearance of Ethel Barrymore in "The Constant Wife" which comes to the Curran Theater, San Francisco, for a limited engagement beginning Monday night May 28th, will give local audiences an opportunity to see this most popular, American actress in one of the happiest roles of her career. The combination of Gilbert Miller's management and a smart new comedy from the pen of the English playwright and novelist, W. Somerset Maugham, has proven such a fortunate one that Miss Barrymore, if she so desired, could probably go on playing "The Constant Wife" indefinitely.

Many letters and queries from members of her large audiences at the Maxine Elliot theater, New York, and the Sam H. Harris theater, Chicago, during her long runs, have convinced Miss Barrymore that the particular problem of her new play has intrigued all classes of playgoers. The marked curiosity concerning the solution of the predicament at once pathetic and comic, seems to have added as much to the wide appeal of the comedy as the brilliant witticisms with which it is sprinkled, and the searching comment on modern marriage inherent in its amazing situations.

While W. Somerset Maugham has been widely known for many plays which have had success in America, he is perhaps most often remembered in connection with "The Circle," a brilliant comedy of marriage, and his part in the dramatic version of "Rain," which was based on one of his short stories. On only one occasion before the present play has he provided a role for Miss Barrymore, whose talents for comedy seem so adroitly fitted to his own dialogue and point of view. That was "Lady Frederick," which the star played under the management of Charles Froman several years ago.

With Miss Barrymore in "The Constant Wife" will be the same expert cast which has made the comedy one of the reigning successes of the past two seasons. Prominent among them are Kenneth Hunter, Frank Conroy, James Jolley, Cora Witherspoon, Gertrude Bryan, Alice John and Jeanette Sherwin.

Matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

These bags are distributed by the Good Will Organization in San Francisco and are purchased by the Sunday School here, donations to be made by the children in order that the bags made may be sent on their mission bulging with friendly greetings.

PLEASANTON BOY WINS HAYWARD SPELLING TEST

Wilbur Davis Spells Down Jack Bunker of Niles School

After standing up nearly three hours in a competitive spelling match with representatives of nine elementary schools of Southern Alameda County, at the Hayward high school Friday afternoon, Wilbur Davis, 14-year old pupil of the Seventh grade of the Pleasanton Grammar school, and son of Editor Davis of the Pleasanton Times, came out victorious. His final opponent was Jack Bunker of the Niles public school.

As a result of the contest Pleasanton school will receive a silver cup presented by County Superintendent of schools David E. Martin, engraved with the name of the winner, and the pupil who carried off the honors will be awarded a medal by Martin.

The spelling contest Friday was the second of a series to find the best speller in the state. The first was held at the Amador high school a fortnight ago, when young Davis spelled down pupils from Sunol, Pleasanton, Dublin, Antone and the Livermore districts. He will be required to enter a competition at Oakland shortly in which pupils of the northern end of the county will participate.

The winner of the county contest is to meet winners of other county contests in a match at Sacramento during the State Fair this summer.

will insure that all Mutual dairy products are kept to the highest standard.

Across from the creamery a two-story building with a floor space of 60,000 square feet is given over to the grocery warehouse. Here every modern convenience, including three elevators and electric hand trucks, is used to speed up the deliveries of groceries. Two spur tracks with a capacity of 28 freight cars flank the warehouse.

The yard space between the warehouse and creamery is roofed over so that the men working there are not affected by rainy weather. This also provides night garage space for about 200 trucks that are busy during the day making deliveries to the stores.

Other units of the new plant include a flour storage bin for the bakery, a large produce warehouse, carpenter, paint and machine shops, and the boiler room and power house.

CALIFORNIA NEWS BRIEFS

"Bigger and better" automobile plates for California in 1929, probably orange numbers on a black background, were decided upon by Frank G. Snook, chief of the state division of motor vehicles.

California will have a state fire prevention and suppression force of fifty men in the field by June 1 and most of the rangers and other forestry officials are already on duty. State Forester M. B. Pratt announced a few days ago.

Death has claimed Kern county's oldest native born resident, an Indian woman whose span of life there has passed the century mark. She was born in the canyon. The Indian woman's exact age is unknown, but her nephew, Chief Juan Lozada, says she was well over 100 years and that many believed her to be 127 years of age. Although she was the mother of several children, Mrs. Mendez survived all of them.

Journalism, the language of newspapermen, is invading the public schools. Not only will California's new series of language books employ cartoons suggestive of comic strips to enliven the pages, but the text matter itself will have a distinct newspaper flavor. There will be "lead" paragraphs such as are used in newspaper stories. Blackface type will be generously employed.

California's state department of public health a few days ago indulged in "baby talk" and there were 84,334 babies to talk about. That many brand new infants came into California homes during the last year, approximately 20 to every 1,000 persons in the state population. The baby total showed an increase of 1,962 over that of 1926. And, more than that, the infant mortality rate for the year was kept down to 62.5 per 1,000 live births, the lowest in the history of California, according to the department's official vital statistics made public.

The present forty-mile speed limit on California highways as enforced by the state division of motor vehicles will be continued despite the ruling by a Fresno justice that fifty miles an hour is legal under certain conditions. This is the attitude of Frank G. Snook, chief of the state motor vehicles department. The interpretation the Fresno justice places on the motor vehicle act does not cause the whole superstructure of speed legislation to tumble down, Snook says. Furthermore, he does not believe that the Fresno decision is of sufficient consequence to be appealed to a higher court.

Plans for a $40,000,000 initiative bond act to build the Westside highway through the San Joaquin Valley, ultimately providing a new San Francisco-Los Angeles connection, were disclosed last week before Governor Young. And Governor Young said that he "seriously doubted" whether the people of California will favor return to the bond issue method of financing road building. The proposed highway, as explained by W. R. McKay of Hanford, state crime commission member, and other backers of the plan would be approximately 400 miles long, extending between Tracy and Fillmore.

Dan Cupid took a punch right on the "button" from California's gin marriage law last year, marriages dropping off by 3,177 during 1927. This is shown by official figures announced by the state department of public health. Last year's marriage total was actually running ahead of 1926 until the law requiring a three-day declaration of marriage became effective, on July 29th. But during the closing five months of the year Cupid's couplings showed a decrease of approximately 5,000. For the year, marriages totaled 53,487 for a rate of 12.6 per thousand of population, against 56,664 marriages and a rate of 13.7 in 1926. There were 19,719 weddings in the state during the last five months of the year, as compared with 24,671 during the same period of 1926.

San Francisco not only "knows how" educationally, but she has the dollars to back up her knowledge. The bay city has a greater wealth per pupil in the elementary and high schools than any other population center in California. Los Angeles county is the richest in the state, but statistical distribution of wealth on a per capita basis among public school children places San Francisco far ahead of either the Los Angeles area or the East Bay district. The state department of education recently announced "true wealth per pupil" in the three big counties as follows: elementary schools—San Francisco, $34,413.53; Los Angeles, $30,207.30; Alameda, $19,140.87. High schools—San Francisco, $124,969.99; Los Angeles, $96,539.09; Alameda, $55,907.98.

California's bill for school books is experiencing a shrinkage, due to the work of the state printing office in their production, that the citizenry is going to learn of with much satisfaction. A cut of approximately 66.2-3 per cent in costs is not to be overlooked, with so many other places in which the saving can be utilized. The office has just completed the printing of 25,416 copies of arithmetic books No. 1, at an average cost of 21 cents, the total being $5,336. At the publishers' quoted prices, these books would have cost the state more than $15,000.

Degrees and certificates of graduation were granted 2,232 students at the University of California at the sixty-fifth annual commencement exercises held in the Memorial Stadium at Berkeley recently.

June 1 is the date set by the Boeing Air Transport, Inc., on which they will begin operation of new twelve-passenger planes between San Francisco and Sacramento. Three planes will go into service then and twelve more are planned to be put into service as soon as the need for them develops. This announcement was made recently by Maurice M. Smith, of the Boeing traffic department, before the Sacramento Ad Club.

California's total estimated daily average crude oil production increased 600 barrels during the week ended May 12, figures released by the American Petroleum Institute show. The total estimated daily average crude oil production for the week of the report was 622,900 barrels, compared with 622,300 barrels for the week ended May 5.

Stockton will be the next attraction for cruising enthusiasts following the Isleton festival of last week-end. The Stockton Water Carnival will be held May 26 and 27, in celebration of the completion of the valley's victory in its fight for a deep-water channel to the sea. An important feature of the affair will, of course, be races in the various outboard divisions. It is expected that a majority of the boats entered for the Isleton contests will be taken down the San Joaquin for the competition this week.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been lost to investors in the state in stock through activities of so-called loan and discount companies, according to the State Corporation Department a few days ago after a six week investigation into activities of such companies which, it is alleged, have been loaning from 50 to 80 cents on the dollar to holders of stocks. There are twenty-seven such concerns under investigation in the state.

Clara Phillips must spend five more years inside prison walls before she is eligible to parole. A formal ruling by Deputy Attorney General Charles A. Wetmore Jr. last week blasted the hammer murderess' hope of leaving San Quentin this year. She had pinned her hopes to the 1927 law fixing new penalties for second degree murder and setting the minimum term for second degree murder at five years. In an effort to apply the provisions of the 1927 law to prisoners convicted prior to that date, the Legislature made the act retroactive. Clara Phillips has served five years of her sentence, and under the new law would be eligible for parole.

More than half the 4,288 population on San Quentin prison is made up of young men below thirty years of age, a survey of statistics shows. There are 2,297, the figures show. Average age of male prisoners is 32 years; that of females 35. In spite of the fact that scores of men have been sent out on parole since January 1, the population has increased by 446 since that date. White prisoners predominate in both male and female sections, with negroes second. There are 3,538 white prisoners, 307 negroes, 56 Chinese, 22 Japanese, 31 Indians, 6 Hawaiians, 23 Filipinos and 13 Hindus.

The statewide co-operative fight of Californians to secure federal money for adequately financing forest experimental work as a basis of conserving and developing the forests, one of California's greatest natural resources, has been won with the passage of the McNary-McSweeney forestry research bill in the House of Representatives. The passage of this bill by the House of Representatives marks the close of the legislative cycle of the bill, and the President's signature is definitely assured, due to the fact that he clear-listed the bill before it was passed by the Senate and House committees and the Senate. This forestry research bill gives to California the sum of $190,000 of federal money annually for the work of the California Forest Experiment Station.

President Coolidge's approval of the flood control bill last week means a saving of approximately $23,000,000 to northern California land owners, according to a statement issued by Stephens W. Downey, attorney for the state reclamation board. Levies and other works of the Sacramento valley flood control projects involve a total cost of $51,000,000, toward which, up to this time, Downey said the federal and state governments have been contributing approximately 10 per cent each, the other 80 per cent remaining a charge against the land owners. The California provisions of the new federal flood control bill were sponsored by Congressman Charles F. Curry of Sacramento along the lines of the California debris commission report of 1925, and pledge the federal government, Downey said, to one-third participation in the $51,000,000 cost.

One of California's greatest killers, the grade crossing, will be attacked shortly, when active campaigning begins for passage of the grade crossing bond act, authorizing $10,000,000 bonds, to be matched by an equal amount from the railroads. Senator Roy Fellom of San Francisco is author of the act. "There were 194 persons killed and 763 injured in 1,740 grade crossing accidents during 1927," said Fellom. "These figures from the state railroad commission survey show an increase of nearly 40 per cent over 1926."

California Ranch News

Eighty-five carloads of sheep were shipped from the Williams, Colusa county, stock yards during the last week, the sheep going to the eastern markets. The lambs of Colusa were shipped in excellent condition.

The best known authorities in the United States on co-operative marketing will speak before the American Institute of Co-operation, which meets on the Pacific Coast for the first time this summer. Sessions will begin in Los Angeles and end with a two-weeks' session on the campus of the University of California at Berkeley.

Orchardists representing the bulk of Arbutus's, Colusa county, estimated 600-ton apricot crop, to be harvested within a few weeks, met last week at the farm center meeting and made plans for marketing the crop. It was decided to form a pool and ship four cars to eastern markets through the California Fruit Exchange. The balance of the crop will be shipped individually by the growers to Pacific Coast markets.

One-third of all existing refrigerator cars in the United States, some 40,000, will be used to move the California perishable fruit and vegetable crop. This is according to an estimate a few days ago by E. J. Hanson, assistant freight traffic manager of the Union Pacific Railroad. Hanson, who just arrived in Los Angeles from Omaha, said citrus prices would be generally higher this year.

A report on crops made by the state and federal agricultural statisticians is as follows: Almonds, 74 per cent of normal as against 62 per cent last year. Crop expected to exceed 1927 production. Apricots, March rain-storm developed damage in some areas. Condition 55 per cent of normal; 60 per cent a year ago. Cherries, condition of 60 per cent of normal; May 1 promises only fair yield. Production, however, expected to exceed unusually light crop of 1927. Oranges, May 1 reports show heavy flowering, indicating good crop for coming season.

Whether or not Aladdin had anything to do with the transportation of Orange county within a few years from a desert waste to an agricultural paradise, he will be a much feted guest at the eighth annual California Valencia Orange show, to be staged at Anaheim from May 24 to June 3. The decorations for the 1923 Valencia show will be carried out in a manner and on a scale that would make Aladdin feel right at home, it is announced by the decorations committee. There will be beautifully fitted oriental palaces, exquisite courts in which fountains play and birds sing, and exotic gardens forming a veritable riot of color.

Fruit beverages such as orange and grape juice, have found a friend in Washington, D. C. The California Vineyardists' Association a few days ago received word from Otis B. Johnson, secretary of the Federal Trade Commission, that imitation fruit juices, when bottled, must be labeled as imitation in bold type. Officials of the vineyardists' association state that this ruling will make it possible for California grape growers to enter grape juice in the competitive market with the imitation product with hope of success. Because of competition of cheap imitation grape juice there has been a decrease in the output of the real California product since 1922.

Farmers in Sacramento, Sonoma, Lake and Napa counties were in happy frame of mind following a victory a few days ago in "fighting" the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph and Northern California Telephone Companies. The victory came after several hours of bitter wrangling between the California Farm Bureau Federation, representing farmer-owned telephone lines in the four counties, and the two larger companies. Hearing was held before California Railroad Commissioner William J. Carr. The farmers contended the two companies are refusing to co-operate with them and are demanding exorbitant rates for "foreign exchange" service. Specifically, the farmers asked that two companies be restrained from raising their "foreign service rates from $5 to $7.50 per annum."

Rice planting is well under way at Biggs, Butte county, the water having been turned into many of the plots. The crop in California will be about 40,000 bags less than it was last year, says Frank Thomas, rice buyer of Biggs. It is expected that about 125,000 bags of rice will be produced in California in 1928 as compared with 165,000 produced in 1927. Glenn county will have approximately the same acreage, as will also Butte. Colusa county will be a little less. The main decreases will be noted in the San Joaquin Valley.

The Loomis Fruit Growers' Association packing house at Loomis, Placer county, is running full blast with cherries. Over fifty packers are employed now. On May 20 the plums will be moving, the plum grader having just been installed.

Sheepmen at Marysville estimate that the total paid by wool buyers in that district this spring was more than $700,000, which with $2,820,000 from the sale of 340,000 lambs at $8 a head has made a grand return of $3,420,000 to the sheepmen.

The combined dairy payroll in Tulare for the month totaled $267,823.42, a slight decrease of the previous month, it was announced when local dairymen received their cream checks recently. Decrease in prices accounted for the drop in the payroll.

California wheat is 86 per cent of normal as compared with a ten-year average of 84 per cent, and the 1928 crop will run approximately 15,106,000 bushels, an increase of over 13,642,000 last year, it was estimated recently by state and federal agricultural statisticians. Barley and oats are 90 and 93 per cent of normal, respectively. Size of crops will depend on weather conditions during the next few weeks.

Santa Rosa High School's stock judging team was announced as the winner of the state-wide contest held at the local Union Stockyards at Los Angeles under supervision of the state board of education vocational department. Salinas High School won second place and Woodland High, San Diego county, placed first in the poultry judging contest.

Results of experiments in cross-breeding Rambouillet ewes to mutton type rams at the University of California Farm at Davis showed that the Shropshire and Southdown crosses excelled in value, bettering the lambs obtained by crossing Hampshire, Suffolk, Romney and Rambouillet strains. However, the Hampshire and Suffolk types led in number of twins.

T. D. Watson has commenced the planting of twenty acres of peppers on his ranch at Wheatland, Yuba county, west of Wheatland. The plants, which are planted and watered by machine, are set out in low bottom land, which is ideal for flourishing growth. Harvest of the peppers commences in September and the picking extends into November. The crop is used exclusively for seed; the seed being extracted by machine in the field. Watson and other growers in the district are planting a large acreage to watermelons, the soil being especially adaptable to melons, which have been sold during the past few years in the markets throughout the valley under the label of Bear River melons.

The first car of California cantaloupes was selling in New York market the first week of this month at a wide range of prices and a top of $14 for jumbo 45s. Range of standard 45s was $9 to $12. The season is somewhat earlier in that section, shipments having started a week or ten days sooner. Shipments were expected to reach a volume of fifty carloads daily from May 15 to May 20, with the time of heaviest shipments probably in the third or fourth week of June. The state crop reporting service estimated 24,708 acres of cantaloupes, compared with 31,383 in 1927. Accordingly, shipments were expected to be somewhat lighter this season, even with continued fairly good crop conditions.

The annual census of the black scale population of citrus groves in Los Angeles county is now being carried on by the district inspectors of the Los Angeles County Horticultural Commissioner's office. All commercial orchards are being graded according to the amount of black scale present. The data thus obtained will be used to determine the condition of black scale infestations in orchards generally as compared to the degree of infestation during the adult period a year ago. A yearly check is in this manner kept on the improvement or deterioration in conditions. Results obtained from the use of various insecticides, used on acreages great enough to give good representative figures, are shown in the final compilation of grades.

Preparations are being made in all counties where puncture vine exists for the 1928 control campaign says W. C. Jacobsen, chief, bureau plant quarantine and pest control. Results obtained in previous campaigns, he states, have been very satisfactory to those in charge of the control program. Early activity in the control operations will facilitate the elimination of this pest. Several counties have already outlined their spraying plans and machines have been ordered to take care of the season's weed program.

DAIRY FACTS

SUNLIGHT EFFECT ON DAIRY CALVES

T. W. Gullikson and C. H. Eckles make the following report in the Journal of Dairy Science:

Four heifer calves were placed on an experiment at from three to seven days of age. Two were confined in a completely dark well ventilated box stall and allowed in the open only at night. The other two were allowed to run out of doors during the day and confined only at night. The ration for all animals was identical. The grain portion consisting of corn meal, corn gluten feed, wheat bran, and linseed oil meal, 3:1:1:1, and timothy hay of fair to poor quality forming the roughage. The animals were weighed every ten days and the height at the top of the withers measured every thirty days during the two-year period.

The animals in both lots continued normal in all outward respects during the test. All heifers came in heat when less than a year of age. The two in the "sunlight" group were accidentally bred at the first heat period. One dropped a normal full-time calf, and the other a small, slightly deformed calf, with both eyes present but blind. This condition was not thought to be due to the ration. One heifer in the "no sunlight" group was bred at about sixteen months of age and dropped a normal calf. The other heifer of this group was found to have malformed reproductive organs which prevented conception but did not hinder oestrus.

From these data it is concluded that the absence of sunlight was without effect upon calves kept in darkness from the age of one week to two years. Normal reproduction also occurred.

Best to Compound Grain Mixture for Dairy Cows

In making a ration, cost is one of the important factors. The best practice is to compound a grain mixture so that it will balance with the home-grown roughage. With this in mind, the separate grains should be selected to supply the necessary nutrients at the lowest possible cost. For this, not only the price per hundred pounds but also the relative cost of each constituent, especially protein, must be considered. For example, to determine the cost of a pound of digestible protein in a given feed divide the price of 100 pounds by the per cent of digestible protein in the feed. If this calculation is made for several feeds, the relative cost of protein in each will be apparent. Then the feeds that furnish protein at the least cost can be selected. The same can be done to determine the cost of the carbohydrates and fat, which are the heat-making or energy-producing part of the feed.

Good Grade Bull Better Than "Scrub" Pure Bred

While pure-bred cattle still perform well enough at the pail to add something to grade herds by contributing the right kinds of bulls for breeding purposes, not all pure-bred cows are capable of producing bulls that will do this. A certificate of registration is not enough to prove that a bull will increase the value of the grade herd into which he goes. Many farmers have said that they would rather have a good grade bull at the head of their herd than a "scrub" pure-bred. This stand is a stand for better production, but at the same time, the one way to insure that a "scrub" pure bred is not being purchased is to insist on a bull with butterfat records back of him, just as the buyer would insist on butterfat records back of any grade bull which he would consider "good."

Dairy Notes

Concrete makes a good dairy stable floor.

A good milking goat gives about two quarts a day. An equally good cow will give at least ten quarts. A goat will usually milk six to seven months.

A parasite in the dairy business is the man who keeps an underfed herd of cows, feeds his family butter substitutes and complains about the low price of butter.

A fair milk production for a mature Holstein cow is 40 to 45 pounds a day. The cost of feed at present prices will be about 40 cents per day. If feed is all purchased at retail the cost may be higher.

Don't feed a cow too much protein. It causes udder troubles and difficulties in breeding.

Don't expect full pails from half-filled cows. Sunshine and exercise make healthy cows, but feed is necessary to make a healthy cow pay.

More bulls (cows, too) than you would think die from eating nails, etc., in feed. In Pennsylvania, feed manufacturers are not allowed to use wire to fasten tags to feed bags, just because of this danger.

Any Woman Can Look Stylish

By MAE MARTIN

Most stylish looking women you see are simply "good managers." They don't open their pocket-books wide for every change in fashion. They know simple ways to make last season's things conform to this season's styles.

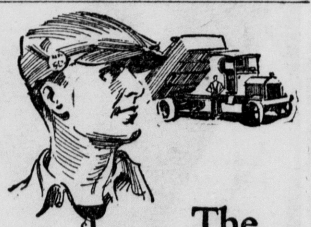

Thousands of them have learned how easily they can transform a dress, or blouse, or coat, by the quick magic of home tinting or dyeing. With true, fadeless Diamond Dyes, anyone can do this successfully. The "know-how" is in the dyes. Each package represents the perfection of 50 years of dye-making. They don't streak or spot like inferior dyes. New, fashionable tints appear like magic, right over the out-of-style or faded colors. Tinting with Diamond Dyes is as easy as bluing, and dyeing takes just a little longer. Only Diamond Dyes produce perfect results. Insist on them and save disappointment.

My new 64-page book, "Color Craft," gives hundreds of ways you can make your home and clothes stylish and attractive, and do it with little money. It's FREE. Send for your copy, NOW. Write Mae Martin, Home Service Dept., Diamond Dyes, Burlington, Vermont.

She Forgot, but—
Recently Capt. William A. Smith, attorney general, had occasion to investigate the mystery of a jail door that had been left open in a certain Kansas county. A young man charged with bootlegging had walked out to liberty. It cost the state considerable money to return him to the jail. The investigation finally revealed that the blame attached either to the jailer or to his wife. When questioned the jailer's wife admitted:
"Yes, I left the door open."
"Why did you do that; did you forget to shut it?"
"Yes," she replied, "I forgot to close the door, but I still think it a sin and a shame to keep that nice looking boy in jail."—Kansas City Star.

Charged Course
"Anyone can see," said the wag, glazier as his assistant handed him a piece of glass he'd just rimmed, "that I've got my work cut out for me."—Farm and Fireside.

The Truck Driver

I believe Champion is the better spark plug because of the way Champions stand up in hard truck service.

Champion is the better spark plug because it has an exclusive sili-manite insulator specially treated to withstand the much higher temperatures of the modern high-compression engine. Also a new patented solid copper gasket-seal that remains absolutely gas-tight under high compression. Special analysis electrodes which assure a fixed spark-gap under all driving conditions.

Recently they met in Los Angeles, and Redwing suggested taking a walk. The first thing Princess Rose Marie knew, they were entering the marriage license bureau. The writer has never felt, and never will feel, that the employees of the paper are working for him—they are creating the paper, and the paper belongs to the people—dedicated to the people's cause of good government, community expansion, and greater diffusion of local information.

It is such an event as that of which we write that convinces us, in moments of depression of spirit and weariness of body, that, although fate has limited our sphere to a tiny spot on the map of California and allows worry to oppress us at times, it has surrounded us with co-workers, than whom there are none finer, more loyal, more interesting nor none endowed more abundantly with the characteristics that bring sunshine and goodwill into the darkened recess of human existence.
